

Let Him Who Has Laid His Hand on the Plow Not Look Back!

by Ausbund

The sermon emphasizes the importance of pressing on towards the goal of eternal life with Jesus Christ and warns against the consequences of looking back.

Scripture: Philippians 3:14

Topics: "Following Christ", "Eternal Rewards"

Description

Hans Betz preaches about the importance of not looking back once you have committed to following Jesus Christ. He emphasizes the need to press on towards the goal of gaining Christ, who will raise believers with Him on the day of resurrection. Betz warns against the fate of Lot's wife, who was punished for looking back and turning into a pillar of salt, urging his listeners to declare themselves for Christ and move forward without hesitation, promising eternal joy for those who overcome.

Transcript

Let him who has laid his hand on the plow not look back! Press on to the goal! Press on to Jesus Christ! The one who gains Christ will rise with him from the dead on the youngest day. . . . Remember Lot's wife! When she looked back she was punished by God and became a pillar of salt. Let this be your example, you who have chosen the Way. Do not turn around! Do not look back! Declare yourselves for Christ and go ahead! If you overcome you will live with him in eternal joy!

-- Hans Betz, Ausbund, 111:11-12
