

Let Us Fight Valiantly On

by Ausbund

We must stay focused on our spiritual goals and avoid distractions that might lead us astray, lest we perish like Lot's wife.

Scripture: Luke 9:62, Philippians 3:14, Hebrews 12:1

Topics: "Christian Perseverance", "Spiritual Warfare"

Description

Hans Betz preaches on the importance of perseverance and focus in the Christian journey, likening it to a valiant fight towards the ultimate prize. He warns against the dangers of turning back or being distracted by worldly possessions, drawing a parallel to Lot's wife who perished when she looked back with regret at what she left behind.

Transcript

Let us fight valiantly on, pressing toward the prize. The one who turns to one side or the other will perish with Lot's wife who turned to look back, feeling sorry for the possessions she left behind.

-- Hans Betz, Ausbund, 113:18
