

The Easter Triumph

by A.W. Tozer

The Easter message represents the radiant and glory-filled celebration of Christ's mighty triumph over death and hell.

Scripture: 1 Corinthians 15:55

Topics: "Resurrection", "Victory over Death"

Description

A.W. Tozer emphasizes the profound beauty and glory of the Easter message, contrasting it with the humility of Christmas. He celebrates the Resurrection as a triumphant victory over death, hell, and the grave, highlighting the joy and hope it brings to believers. Tozer expresses that the true beauty lies not in physical appearances but in the living Christ, who assures us of eternal life in His presence. The sermon invites us to rejoice in the reality of the Resurrection and the promise of everlasting beauty in heaven.

Transcript

I do not mind telling you that within me I find the Easter message and the reality of the Resurrection more beautiful and glorious than the Christmas scene. Christmas tells us that Jesus was born; that He was born for the humiliation of suffering and death and atonement. But Easter is the radiant and glory-filled celebration of Christ's mighty triumph over the grave and death and hell! When Easter comes, our voices are raised in the triumphant chorus: The three sad days had quickly sped; He rises glorious from the dead! There is the real beauty!

This is more than the beauty of color; more than the beauty of outline or form; more than the beauty of physical proportion.

In the living Christ is the perfection of all beauty; and because He lives, we too shall live in the presence of His beauty and the beauties of heaven, forever!
