Transcript

When I think about all the lessons I've learned throughout all the years, the most important principle I've ever learned is this one. Obey God, leave all the consequences to Him. But there's a second principle that I think is so very important, and that is wait upon God for His timing.

Wait upon God for His timing. His timing is very, very important. And so often we think, well, if I know what God wants me to do, that's all that matters.

No, I also need to know when He wants me to do it, or how He wants me to do it.
