

Benediction to Corinthians

by Clement of Rome

Clement of Rome sends a blessing and prayer for peace and harmony to be restored among the Corinthians.

Scripture: Romans 15:33, 1 Corinthians 1:2, Jude 1:25, Revelation 1:6

Topics: "Church Unity", "Divine Grace"

Description

Clement of Rome sends messengers Claudius Ephebus, Valerius Bito, and Fortunatus to the Corinthians, urging them to bring back news of peace and harmony among the believers. He expresses a deep longing for the restoration of good order in the community, desiring to rejoice in their unity. Clement concludes with a prayer for the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ to be with all who are called by God, giving glory, honor, power, majesty, and eternal dominion to Him forever.

Transcript

Send back speedily to us in peace and with joy these our messengers to you: Claudius Ephebus and Valerius Bito, with Fortunatus: that they may the sooner announce to us the peace and harmony we so earnestly desire and long for [among you], and that we may the more quickly rejoice over the good order re-established among you. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you, and with all everywhere that are the called of God through Him, by whom be to Him glory, honour, power, majesty, and eternal dominion, from everlasting to everlasting. Amen.
