Description

In this sermon, the preacher emphasizes the importance of preparing for eternity and asks the listeners to examine their souls. He urges them to test themselves in the light of scripture and not rely on emotions or the opinions of others. The preacher warns that many who call themselves Christians are actually lost and highlights the gravity and uncertainty of life. He emphasizes the urgency of accepting salvation now, as there will be a judgment where everyone will be judged according to their works. The only way to be saved is to recognize one's sin, believe in the sufficiency of Jesus Christ, repent, and surrender oneself to Him.

Transcript

They said out of a million roads into hell, there's no one rolled out. Older souls fall. Final sentence upon the final paragraph upon the final page of history.

Test yourself. These days you'll be pushed out. Day, if you will.

You can't have an assurance. Let me ask you a question. What are you going to do when this thing's all over? That's the thing I've... Invitation and the command to repent and believe on Christ.

And who breaks off with everything and attaches himself to Jesus Christ. And that man will be saved.
