

Revival Hymn (Macedonian)

by Compilations

The sermon calls for a revival of spiritual fervor among Christians, emphasizing the need for holiness, repentance, and a focus on glorifying God rather than seeking human happiness.

Duration: 34:08

Scripture: Psalm 24:3, Isaiah 52:1, Ephesians 5:14

Topics: "True Repentance", "Surrender To God"

Description

This sermon emphasizes the need for Christians to awaken from spiritual slumber and embrace a life of true surrender and obedience to God. It challenges believers to move beyond a self-centered faith focused on personal happiness to a Christ-centered life that seeks to bring glory to God. The speaker highlights the importance of genuine repentance, sacrificial service, and complete surrender to God's will, urging listeners to abandon utilitarian Christianity and instead focus on glorifying God in all aspects of their lives.

Transcript

The Church of Jesus Christ is largely sleeping, like a great bedroom, and you have all the Christians in bed, and they're all sleeping, and they're saying, please, don't wake me up! I want to sleep off. And of course, when God starts to operate a revival, people cannot sleep. You can't sleep in church when the Spirit of God awakes the people.

Look at the first verse of this 52nd chapter. Awake! Awake! Put on strength! Wake it up, you sleepy Christians! Awake! All that's sleeping! Arise from the dead! Christ will give you life! Keep this in mind, from an old man, there is no finality to the Christian life this side of eternity. Be afraid that some of us may go to our own funeral tonight and die to serve and end all the failure and all the weakness.

Why should a person come to the cross? Why should a person embrace death with Christ? Why should a person be willing to go in identification down to the cross and into the tomb of nothing? And I'll tell you why. Because it's the only way that God can get glory out of a human being. If I were to ask you tonight, you'd say, yes, I'm saved.

When? Oh, so-and-so preached, I got baptized. Are you saved? What are you saved for? Hell? Are you saved from bitterness? Are you saved from lust? Are you saved from cheating? Are you saved from lying? Are you saved from bad habits? Are you saved from rebelling against your parents? Come on, what are you saved for? Who shall ascend the hill of God? Who shall stand in his holy place? He that has clean hands and a pure heart, who has not lifted up his soul to vanity, nor sworn deceitfully, he shall receive the blessing of the Lord. And there's no room for him in the inn.

He got a bit older. There was no room in his family. His family turned on him.

He went to the temple. No room in the temple. The temple turned on him.

And when he died, there was no room to bury him. He died outside of the city. Well, why in God's name do you expect to be accepted everywhere? How is it the world couldn't get on with the holiest man that ever lived and it can get on with you and me? Are we compromised? Are we compromised? Are we no spiritual stature? Are we no righteousness that reflects on their corruption? He that is from above is above all.

I want to say to the Christians, don't go around apologizing for him. Don't go around worried because you can't make his doctrines fit in with what you learned in school. All you learned in school was one column head instructing another column head.

And you don't have to apologize for him. But as dear Dr. Tozer used to say, Len, you knew one thing about a man that was carrying a cross out of the city. You knew he wasn't coming back.

We've come to an alter and we go back the next week and we're as fascinated. We haven't spent half an hour with Jesus, but we're as spectre as stinking out in a movie house. And Paul says that's what the world is to me.

It's a system of corruption and rottenness and violence. It's anti-Christ and the world goes. Is the world crucified to you tonight or does it fascinate you? It would not mean a very much greater conception of how tremendously invaluable a true expression of the church is to the Lord.

It's priceless. But the Lord give us more of this anguish for his church as a whole. Then it will be precious to him.

When God gets down, suddenly men and women all over the park were gripped by the fear of God. God, are my hands clean? Is my heart pure? The moment that that happened in the bar, a power was let loose in Barber that shook the whole of Louis. God stepped out.

The Holy Spirit began to move among the people. And the minister writing about what happened on the following morning said, You met God on Meadow and Moorland. You met him in the homes of the people.

God seemed to be everywhere. What was that? Revival? Revival! Not an evangelist. Not a special officer.

Not anything at all organized on the basis of human endeavor. But an awareness of God that gripped the whole community. So much so that I can remember once, within 24 hours, a stressing 8-meet.

Crowded churches. There was a dance in progress that night. And while this young man was praying in the aisles, the power of God moved into that dance.

And the young people, over a hundred of them, left from the dance, as though fleeing from a plague, and they made for the church. So I endeavored to get up into the pulpit. I found the way blocked for the young people who had been at the dance.

When I went into the pulpit, I found a young woman, a graduate of Aberdeen University, who was at the dance. And she's lying on the floor of the pulpit crying, Is there mercy for me? Is there mercy for me? Is there mercy for me? God was at work. While that meeting continued until four o'clock in the morning.

Mr. Campbell, there must be anything between two and three hundred people at the police station. They're gathered there, and some are on their knees. Now I can't understand it.

Now, he wasn't in the church, you see. But here, a crowd of men and women from a neighboring village, five and six miles away, were so moved by God that they found themselves moving to the police station because the constable there was a God-fearing and well-saved man. They were there, and this young man begged of me to go along to the police station.

I went along, and I shall never, never forget what my ear heard and my eye saw. That morning, young men were kneeling by the roadside, I think just now of a group of half-a-dozen, one of them under the influence of drink, and his old mother kneeling beside him and saying, Oh, Willie, Willie, are you coming at last? Mr. Campbell, something wonderful has happened. Revival has broken out.

Today is the parish minister. And from the group of young men who sought the Lord that night, there are nine in the ministry. I went to the door and see the crowd at seven o'clock.

And I went to the door, and there must have been a congregation of between six and seven hundred people gathered around the church. And within a matter of minutes, the church was crowded at a quarter to twelve. Now, where did the people come from? How did they know that a meeting was in progress in the church? Well, I cannot tell you.

But I know this from Billy and Hamlet, that people came. Were you to ask some of them today, what was it that moved you? They couldn't tell you. Only that they were moved by a power that they could not explain.

And the power was such as to give them to understand and see that they were all deserving sinners. And, of course, the only place they could think of where they might find help was at the church. Now that is the fact that cannot be dispelled.

God was everywhere. And because of this awareness of God, the churches were crowded. Crowded.

Through the day, right on through the night till five and six o'clock in the morning. In revival time does not exist one of the mighty moments in the midst of this great, this big. You know that the drinking house was closed that night, never been open since.

The men who used to drink there and spend the evening there are now praying in our prayer meeting. It is because they entered into the fullness. It is because the people of Druid grasped that truth that we can say today we know practically nothing of backsliding from that greatest moment of years ago.

My dear people, did your good folk understand what revival means? Have you a conception of what it means to see God working? The God of miracles. Father and supernatural. Moving in the midst of men and hundreds swept into the kingdom.

Oh, that we might see. That we might see. What is your life? It is even a vapor that appears for a little time and then it vanishes away.

That world outside there is not waiting for a new definition of Christianity. It is waiting for a new demonstration of Christianity. Would I be out of line in order if I were to talk to you for a little while about utilitarian religion and expedient Christianity? And the question that you are going to ask yourself is is God an end or is he a mean? You have to decide very early in your Christian life whether you are viewing God as an end or a mean.

A more challenging question than this text. What is your life? The philosophy of the day became humanism and you can define humanism this way. Humanism is a philosophical statement that declares the end of all being is the happiness of man.

The reason for existence is man's happiness. Now according to humanism, salvation is simply a matter of getting all the happiness you can out of life. This group of my people, the fundamentalists, that say that we believe in the inspiration of the Bible.

We believe in the deity of Jesus Christ. We believe in hell. We believe in heaven.

We believe in the death, burial, and resurrection of Christ. Remember, the atmosphere is that of humanism. Humanism says that the chief end of being is the happiness of man.

So it wasn't long until we had this, that the fundamentalists knew each other because they said we believe these things. They were men to the most part that had met God. But you see, it wasn't long until, having said these are the things that establish us as fundamentalists, the second generation said, this is how we become a fundamentalist.

Believe in the inspiration of the Bible. Believe in the deity of Christ. Believe in his death, burial, and resurrection and thereby become a fundamentalist.

And so it wasn't long until it got to our generation where the whole plan of salvation was to give intellectual assent to a few statements of doctrine. And a person was considered a Christian because he could say uh-huh at four or five places that he was asked to. And if he knew where to say uh-huh, someone would pat him on the back, shake his hand, smile broadly, and say, brother, you're saved.

At what cost? And so it had gotten down to the place where salvation was nothing more than an essential scheme or a formula. And the end of this salvation was the happiness of man because humanism has penetrated. And so if you were to analyze fundamentalism in contrast to liberalism of a hundred years ago as it's developed, it would be like this.

The liberal says the end of religion is to make man happy while he's alive. And the fundamentalist says the end of religion is to make man happy when he dies. We're still paddling on the edge of the ocean of the possibilities of grace for the holy dissatisfaction in us tonight.

Until we find it something like this. Accept Jesus so you can go to heaven. You don't want to go to that old, silty, nasty, burning hell when there's a beautiful heaven up there.

Now come to Jesus so that you can go to heaven. And the appeal could be as much to selfishness as a couple of men sitting in a coffee shop deciding to go to Ravabank to get something for nothing. It becomes so subtle that it goes everywhere.

What is it? In essence, it's this. That this philosophical postulate that the end of all being is the happiness of man has been sort of covered over with evangelical terms and biblical doctrines until God reigns in heaven for the happiness of man. Jesus Christ was incarnate for the happiness of man.

All the angels exist in the... Everything is for the happiness of man. And I submit to you that this is unchristian. Christianity says the end of all being is the glory of God.

Humanism says the end of all being is the happiness of man. This is the betrayal of the ages. And it's the betrayal in which we live.

And I don't see how God can revive it until we come back to Christianity. Isn't man happy? Can God intend to make man happy? But as a byproduct and not a prime product. Now I ask you what is the philosophy of mission? What is the philosophy of evangelism? What is the philosophy of a Christian? If you'll ask me why I went to Africa I'll tell you I went primarily to improve on the justice of God.

I didn't think it was right for anybody to go to hell without a chance to be saved. And so I went to give poor sinners a chance to go to heaven. Now I hadn't put it in so many words but if you'll analyze what I've just told you do you know what it is? It's humanism.

That I was simply using the provisions of Jesus Christ as a means to improve upon human conditions of suffering and misery. And when I got to Africa I discovered that they weren't poor ignorant little heathen running around in the woods looking for someone to tell them how to go to heaven. That they were monsters of iniquity that were living in utter and total defiance of far more knowledge of God than I ever dreamed they had.

They deserved hell because they utterly refused to walk in the light of their conscience and the light of the law written upon their heart and the testimony of nature and the truth they knew. And when I found that out I assure you I was so angry with God that one occasion in prayer I told him that it was a mighty little thing he'd done sending me out there to reach these people that were waiting to be told how to go to heaven. When I got there I found out they knew about heaven and didn't want to go there.

And they were loved their sin and wanted to stay in it. I went out there motivated by humanism. I'd seen pictures of lepers.

I'd seen pictures of ulcers. I'd seen pictures of native funerals. And I didn't want my fellow human beings to suffer in hell eternally after such a miserable existence on earth.

But it was there in Africa that God began to tear through the overlay of this humanism. And it was that day in my bedroom with the door locked that I wrestled with God. For I hear I was coming to grips with the fact that the people that I thought were ignorant and wanted to know how to go to heaven and were saying someone come and teach us actually didn't want to take time to talk with me or anybody else.

They had no interest in the Bible and no interest in Christ. And they loved their sin and wanted to continue in it. And I was to the place at that time where I felt the whole thing was a sham and a mockery and I'd been told a bill of goods.

And I wanted to come home. And there alone in my bedroom as I faced God honestly with what my heart felt it seemed to me I heard Him say yes, will not the judge of all the earth do right? The heathen are lost. And they're going to go to hell not because they haven't heard the gospel.

They're going to go to hell because they are sinners who love their sin. And because they deserve hell. But I didn't send you out there for them.

I didn't send you out there for their sake. And I heard as clearly as I've ever heard though it wasn't with physical voice but it was the echo of truth of the ages finding its way into an open heart. I heard God say to my heart that day something like this I didn't send you to Africa for the sake of the heathen.

I sent you to Africa for my sake. They deserve hell but I love them. And I endured the agonies of hell for them.

I didn't send you out there for them. I sent you out there for me. Do I not deserve the reward of my suffering? Don't I deserve those for whom I died? And it's reversed it all.

It's changed it all. It's righted it all. And I wasn't any longer working for my cup and ten shekels and a shard but I was serving the living God.

The longer I live the more I find I don't know. Two years ago God gave me a word for the new year. I don't go scattering through the book to find one.

The Lord gave me a word. Rejection. Great.

Why did you repent? I'd like to see some people repent on biblical terms again. Do you see the difference? Do you see the difference? The difference is here is somebody trembling because he's going to be hurt in hell. And he has no sense of the enormity of his guilt.

And no sense of the enormity of his crime. And no sense of his insult against theapy. He's only trembling because his skin is about to be seen.

And this is the difference between 20th century preaching and the preaching of John Wesley. Wesley was a preacher of righteousness that exalted the holiness of God. And when he would stand there with a two to three hour sermon that he was accustomed to deliver in the open air and he would exalt the holiness of God and the law of God and the righteousness of God and the justice of God and the wisdom of his requirements and the justice of his wrath and his anger and then he would turn to sinners and tell them of the enormity of their crimes and their open rebellion and their treason and their anarchy.

The power of God would so depend upon the company that on one occasion it is reliably reported that when the people dispersed there were 1,800 people lying on the ground utterly unconscious. Because they'd had a revelation of the holiness of God and in the light of that they'd seen the enormity of their sin. God had so penetrated their minds and hearts that they had fallen to the ground.

It wasn't trying to convince good man that he was in trouble with a bad God. But it was to convince bad men that they deserved the wrath and anger of a good God. Anything that you love more than you love Jesus Christ is an ideal.

I don't care what it is. I'm embarrassed to be part of the church of Jesus Christ and I, which is so totally, radically different from the New Testament so impoverished, so blind, so powerless I've come to this conclusion. There is a move of God in America today but not amongst the unsafe.

It's amongst the redeemed who are determined by the grace of God to be part of the bride. And to be part of the bride you have to be divorced from everything in the world. We haven't witnessed a somebody who's going to an eternal hell according to our theology where we talked about some tribute to them whispering in my ear that Satan has moved you up and he says you're getting to be dangerous to his kingdom.

He says you're spoiling his plans. You're thwarting his purposes. You're pulling down his strongholds.

We're not pulling things out. We're building pretty little churches and little rooms for people to sit around. If Jesus came back he wouldn't cleanse the temple he'd cleanse the pulpit.

We're in grave danger when we let our accomplishments become the ground of our confidence. Oh boy, how we want to be esteemed. How we want to be respected.

How people should realize what precious gifts of the spirit I've given. Do you know why they don't? Because you stink with pride. That's why.

John died in 1791. Converted at 35. Turn that round it makes 53.

Add them together it makes 88. Because he was saved at 35. Preached for 53 years.

And you know what he left when he died? He left a handful of books. He was saved in Geneva, Gaul. And he preached in all over England.

Six silver spoons somebody gave him. Six pound notes. Give one to each of the four men that carry me to my grave.

And that's all he left. Six pound notes. Six silver spoons.

A handful of books. A Geneva gown. And uh... There's something else.

What was it the other thing? Oh, I know something else he left. The Methodist Jew. He could have died as rich as your famous TV preacher Sunday.

Sure he made money. And he built orphanages. Sure he made money.

He printed Bibles. Sure he made money. He compiled with Charles the Methodist hymn book.

And look where his orphanage is. And he died worth about 30 dollars. He printed Bibles.

He printed hymn books. He financed missionaries to go across the earth. That's the way to use your money.

You think of the reward. Why in God's name do you think it says don't lay up treasure enough? Lay up treasure in heaven. I'm tired of writing about revival.

I'm tired of reading about revival. There are more lost people in the world tonight than ever in the history of the world. And God wants some men who are really drunk, intoxicated with the Spirit of God who have a love life with the Lord Jesus and he can ask anything of you and you'll do it.

I have talked with people that have no assurance of sin forgiven. They want to feel saved before they're willing to commit themselves to Christ. But I believe that the only ones whom God actually witnesses by His Spirit that are born of Him are the people whether they say it or not that come to Jesus Christ and say something like this Lord Jesus, I'm going to obey you and love you and serve you and do what you want me to do as long as I live even if I go to hell at the end of the road simply because you are worthy to be your loved and obeyed and served and I'm not trying to make a deal with you.

But oh, I know so many people that are trying to know the fullness of God so that they can use God. A young preacher came to me down in West Virginia, Huntington, West Virginia. Brother Reed and I have got a great church.

We've got a wonderful Sunday school program. We've got a radio ministry growing. But I feel a personal need and a personal lack.

I need to be baptized with the Holy Ghost. I need to be filled with the Spirit. And someone told me God's done something for you.

And I wondered if you could help me. I looked at the fellow. You know what he looked like? Me.

Just looked like me. I just saw in him everything that was in me. You thought I was going to say me before.

No, listen dear heart. If you've ever seen yourself you'll know that you're never going to be anything else than you were. For in me and my flesh there's no good thing.

Looked like me. He was like a fellow driving up in a big Cadillac, you know to someone standing at the filling station saying, pull it up bud with the highest octane you've got. Well, that's what he looked like.

He wanted power for his program. And God is not going to be a means to anyone's end. I said, I'm awfully sorry.

I don't think I can help you. He said, why? I don't think you're ready. I said, well, suppose you consider yourself coming up with a Cadillac.

You've talked about your program. You've talked about your radio. You've talked about your Sunday school in church.

Very good. You've done wonderfully well without the power of the Holy Spirit. That's what the Chinese Christian said, you know when he got back to China.

What impressed you most about America? He said the great things Americans can accomplish without God. And he'd accomplished a great deal admittedly without God. Now he's wanted something power to accomplish his ends even further.

I said, no, no. You're sitting behind the wheel and you're saying to God give me power so I can go. You won't work.

You've got to slide over. But I knew that rascal because I knew me. I said, no, it'll never do.

You've got to get in the back seat. I could see him leaning over and grabbing the wheel. I said, it'll never do in the back seat.

I said, before God will do anything for you you know what you've got to do? He said, what? I said, you've got to get out of the car take the keys around open up the trunk lid hand the keys to the Lord Jesus get inside the trunk slam the lid down whisper through the keyhole Lord, look fill her up with anything you want and you drive. It's up to you from now. That's why so many people, you know do not enter into the fullness of Christ because they want to become a Levite with ten shekels and a shirt.

They've been serving Micah but they think if they had the power of the Holy Ghost they could serve the tribe of Dan. It'll never work. Never work.

There's only one reason for God meeting you and that's to bring you to the place where in repentance you've been pardoned for his glory and in victory you've been brought to the place of death that he might reign and in the fullness Jesus Christ is able to live and walk in you and your attitude is the attitude of the Lord himself who said, I can do nothing of myself I can't speak of myself I don't make plans for myself my only reason for being is the glory of God in Jesus Christ. If I were to say to you, come to be saved so you can go to heaven come to the cross so that you can have joy and victory come to the fullness of the Spirit so that you can be satisfied I'd be falling into the trap of humanism. I'm going to say to you, dear friend if you're out here without Christ you come to Jesus Christ and serve him as long as you live whether you go to hell at the end of the way because he's worthy.

I say to you, Christian friend you come to the cross and join him in union and death and enter into all the meaning of death to hell in order that he can have glory. I say to you, dear Christian if you do not know the fullness of the Holy Ghost come and present your body a living sacrifice and let him fill you so that he can have the purpose for his coming fulfilled in you and get glory through your life. It's not what you're going to get out of God it's what he is going to get out of you.

Let's be done once and for all with utilitarian Christianity that makes God a means instead of the glorious end that he is. Let's resign. Let's tell Micah we're through.

We're no longer going to be as priests serving for ten shekels and a shirt. Let's tell the tribe of Dan we're through and let's come and cast ourselves at the feet of the nail-pierced Son of God and tell him that we're going to obey him and we're going to love him and serve him as long as we live because he is worthy. Two young Moravians heard of an island in the West Indies where an atheist British owner had 2,000 to 3,000 slaves and the owner had said no preacher, no clergyman will ever stay on this island.

If he's shipwrecked we'll keep him in a separate house until he has to leave but he's never going to talk to any of us about God. I'm through with all that nonsense. 3,000 slaves from the jungles of Africa bought to an island in the Atlantic and there to live and die without hearing of Christ.

Two young Moravians heard about it. They sold themselves to the British planter and used the money they received from the sale for he paid no more than he would for any slave to pay their passage out to his island for he wouldn't even transport them. And as the ship left the river at Hamburg left its pier in the river at Hamburg and was going out into the North Sea carried with the tide.

The Moravians had come from Hernhut to see these two lads off in their early twenties never to return again for this wasn't a four year term. They'd sold themselves into lifetime slavery simply that as slaves they could be as Christian where these others were. The families were there weeping for they knew they'd never see them again.

And they wondered why they were going and questioned the wisdom of it. And as the gap widened and the houses had been cast off and were being curled up there on the pier and the young boys saw the widening gap one lad with his arm linked to the arm of this fellow raised his hand and shouted across the gap the last words that were heard from them. They were these May the land that was slain receive the reward of his suffering.

And this became the core of Moravian missions. And this is the only reason for being that the land that was slain may receive the reward of his suffering. And the question isn't whether you're challenged the question is whether you're changed.
