

Spiritual Rest and Fullness

by David Wilkerson

God promises spiritual rest and fullness to those who seek Him continually, and they will have power, authority, and spiritual strength.

Scripture: Isaiah 65:10, Isaiah 65:13

Topics: "Seeking God", "Spiritual Rest"

Description

David Wilkerson emphasizes the importance of seeking God wholeheartedly to experience spiritual rest and fullness. He contrasts the abundance found in God's presence with the emptiness of those who neglect to seek Him, highlighting that true satisfaction comes from dwelling in the secret place of the Most High. Wilkerson encourages believers to maintain a constant attitude of prayer, assuring them that this connection grants them power over fear and adversity. He cites Psalms 91 as a testament to the protective and sustaining power of God for those who earnestly seek Him. Ultimately, he calls for a life lived in continual communion with God to experience His strength and guidance.

Transcript

"[The plain of] Sharon shall be a fold of flocks, and the Valley of Achor a place for herds to lie down, for My people who have sought Me" (Isaiah 65:10).

God promises that if his children will seek him continually with all their heart, they will always have plenty of spiritual food. Yet those who do not seek God will be empty, famished, dry -- wandering about, looking for a shepherd, hungry and never satisfied. The Word says, "You shall be hungry ... thirsty ... ashamed" (verse 13). But it also says, "Behold, My servants shall eat ... drink ... rejoice ...sing for joy" (verses 13-14).

Those who are shut in with God -- pouring out their hearts to him and seeking him in everything -- will have power, authority, spiritual strength, food for soul and mind. They will be led by God into a place of spiritual rest and fullness.

Psalm 91 is the favorite Scripture passage of many believers. Such great promises are found here! The entire psalm is a revelation of the delivering, keeping power that comes from living in an attitude of seeking God. The person who lives in this habitation of prayer will have power over all demonic snares, all fear, all sickness and plague -- power to prevail and bring forth results in prayer. But there is a condition for this, and it is found in the first verse:

"He who dwells in the secret place of the Most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty" (Psalm 91:1)

"Dwell" means to live in his presence. You may wonder, "Does this mean I have to pray all the time?" In a manner of speaking, yes. Paul said, "Pray without ceasing" (1 Thessalonians 5:17). That means to let your mind be stayed on God in your every waking hour.

Beloved, all throughout the day, in everything, call upon God in your spirit and you will know his power and order in your every step!

Source: <https://sermonindex.net/speakers/david-wilkerson/spiritual-rest-and-fullness/>

Grow in Your Walk with Christ

Listen and read messages that will stir your heart for Christ and point you to deeper repentance and devotion.

- 50,000+ Sermons from speakers past and present
- 3,900+ Classic Christian Books freely readable online
- 1,200+ Bible Translations and Commentaries
- Over 450k forum posts — Join our vibrant online Christian forum

www.sermonindex.net