Description

Isaac Watts, in his sermon, paints a vivid picture of the promised land where saints reign immortal, free from pain and surrounded by everlasting beauty. He contrasts this heavenly realm with our earthly existence, separated by a narrow sea of death, akin to the Israelites' view of Canaan across the Jordan River. Watts challenges believers to overcome their doubts and fears, urging them to have faith like Moses to see the promised land clearly and not be deterred by death's cold waters.

Transcript

There is a land of pure delight

Where saints immortal reign;

Infinite day excludes the night,

And pleasures banish pain.

There everlasting spring abides,

And never-withering flowers:

Death like a narrow sea divides

This heavenly land from ours.

Sweet fields beyond the swelling flood

Stand dressed in living green:

So to the Jews old Canaan stood,

While Jordan rolled between.

But timorous mortals start and shrink
To cross this narrow sea,
And linger shivering on the brink
And fear to launch away.
O could we make our doubts remove,
These gloomy doubts that rise,
And see the Canaan that we love
With unbeckoned eyes,
Could we but climb where Moses stood,
And view the landscape o'er,
Not Jordan's stream, nor Death's cold flood,
Should fright us from the shore.
