

Those Little Foxes That Come Between Our Walk With God

by James Jennings

This sermon emphasizes the hindrances that can come between believers and the Lord, focusing on the subtle influences like the 'little foxes' that can spoil our communion with God. It highlights the importance of self-reflection, acknowledging motivations like the love of praise and worldly distractions that can defile our relationship with the Lord. The speaker encourages humility, recognizing these burdens as tools that lead us to the cross and ultimately outwit Satan.

Scripture: James 4:10, 1 Peter 5:6, Matthew 16:24

Topics: "Hindrances to Communion with God", "The Importance of Self-Reflection"

Transcript

Know what gets in the way of you and the Lord. And the Lord, He wants you, believer. The Lord not just wants you, the Lord desires us as a body.

We are His bride. Robert Murray McShane, he wrote in his journal, Oh, that I may remember my own words this day, that hour of communion is the hour for the little foxes, the little foxes to spoil the wine. This is after he preached.

And listen to his self-reflection. Two things that defile this day in looking back. Love of praise running through everything I did.

He had the honesty to admit that was a true motivation. And consenting to listen to worldly talk. Oh, that these may keep me humble and be my burden, leading me to the cross.

Then Satan will be outwitted.
