

Misery Here--and Hell Hereafter

by Thomas Brooks

To avoid eternal damnation, one must be willing to mortify their earthly nature and overcome sin.

Scripture: Romans 8:13, Galatians 6:7, Colossians 3:5, James 1:15

Topics: "Consequences of Sin", "Sin"

Description

Thomas Brooks emphasizes the grave consequences of sin in his sermon 'Misery Here--and Hell Hereafter,' warning that failing to confront and kill our sins will ultimately lead to our spiritual death. He likens sin to a viper that brings destruction if left unchecked, urging believers to recognize that any compromise with sin invites Satan into their lives. Brooks stresses that true peace cannot be found in sin, only misery in this life and eternal separation from God in the next.

Transcript

("Hypocrites Detected, Anatomized, Impeached,

Arraigned and Condemned" 1650)

"Put to death, therefore, whatever belongs to your earthly nature: sexual immorality, impurity, lust, evil desires and greed, which is idolatry." Col. 3:5.

You must be the death of your sins--or they will be the death of your souls.

Sin is a viper, which always kills where it is not killed.

There is nothing gained by making peace with sin--but misery here--and hell hereafter. Every yielding to sin is a welcoming of Satan into our very bosoms!

Source: <https://sermonindex.net/speakers/thomas-brooks/misery-hereand-hell-hereafter/>

Grow in Your Walk with Christ

Listen and read messages that will stir your heart for Christ and point you to deeper repentance and devotion.

- 50,000+ Sermons from speakers past and present
- 3,900+ Classic Christian Books freely readable online
- 1,200+ Bible Translations and Commentaries
- Over 450k forum posts — Join our vibrant online Christian forum

www.sermonindex.net