

Two Great Things Which Jesus Christ Undertook

by Thomas Brooks

Jesus Christ undertook two great things for His redeemed ones: making full satisfaction to divine justice and yielding absolute conformity to the law of God.

Scripture: Isaiah 53:5, John 3:16, Romans 5:8, Romans 8:1, 2 Corinthians 5:21, Galatians 3:13, Ephesians 1:7, Colossians 1:14, Hebrews 9:28, 1 Peter 2:24

Topics: "Redemption", "Christ's Sacrifice"

Description

Thomas Brooks emphasizes the two monumental undertakings of Jesus Christ: His suffering for the sins of the elect and His perfect conformity to God's law. He explains that Christ bore the infinite wrath of God for all the sins of His chosen ones, providing full satisfaction for divine justice through His death. Additionally, Brooks highlights that through Christ's obedience to the law, believers are qualified for heaven. This dual act of suffering and obedience not only frees the redeemed from hell but also grants them the promise of eternal life. The sermon underscores the depth of Christ's sacrifice and the completeness of His redemptive work.

Transcript

Our Lord Jesus Christ, by once suffering, suffered for all the sins of the elect--past, present, and to come. The infinite wrath of God the Father fell on Him, for all the sins of the chosen ones. The wrath of God was infinite wrath, and the sufferings of Christ were infinite sufferings.

All the sins of God's people, in their absolute number, from first to last, were laid upon Christ; who meritoriously purchased perfect remission of all their sins.

There are two great things which Jesus Christ undertook for His redeemed ones. The one was to make full satisfaction to divine justice for all their sins--this He did by His suffering and death. The other was to yield most absolute conformity to the law of God, both in nature and life. By His suffering and death, He has freed all His redeemed ones from hell. By the imputation of His absolute conformity to the law of God, He has qualified all the redeemed ones for heaven.
